

Seminar Program: Assessing ‘Successful’ Community Based Research : How has Knowledge been Co-Produced?

15-16th June 2023

The Seminar explores existing and emerging innovative frameworks of Coproduction, building upon 20 years of Community-Based Research (CBR) and exploring the similarities, differences, and intersections with participation, coproduction, collaborative governance, cocreation, Thai Ban research, and commoning approaches. This seminar is the culmination of an assessment of successful CBR projects in Thailand, conducted between 2019-2022, and will explore five CBR case studies to better understand implementation, applied methodologies and multi-stakeholder criteria for what determines ‘success’. The Thai CBR case studies will be complemented with others from Indonesia, Laos, Myanmar and from the regional context.

Seminar venue: At Pingnakorn Hotel Chiangmai, 24 Soi Plubplung Huaykaew Rd., Changpuak Chiangmai 50300 Thailand

15 June, 2023
10.00 -10.15	Welcome Speech and Objective of Seminar Chayan Vaddhanaphuti, CMU
10.15 -10.30	Introductions
10.30-11.00	Coproduction - an innovative research framework? A critical examination of coproduction, and proposed avenues to enrich the analytical framework. Catherine Baron and Karen Delfau, L.E.R.E.P.S. Political Science Institute of Toulouse, France
11.00-11.15	Coffee Break
11-15 -11.45	From Thai Baan Research to Co-production of Knowledge: Epistemological Assumption and Practice Chayan Vaddhanaphuti, CMU
11.45-12.15	Discussion
12.15-12.45	Coproduction/co-creation of the Women in Water Governance Platform Karen Delfau, L.E.R.E.P.S. Political Science Institute of Toulouse, France
12.45-14.00	Lunch
14.00-14.30	Cultural Mapping of Loei River Ecosystem: The Power of Co-Production of Knowledge of an Ethnic Tai Puan Community against the Hegemonic Water Management Knowledge. Malee Sitthikriengkrai, CMU
14.30 -15.00	Co-definition of heritage and its Valorisation in East Timor; Socio-political Transformations and Epistemological Uncertainties. Gabriel Facal, Irasec

15.00-15.30	Break
15.30-16.00	A Community-Based Research on Indigenous Rice Variety Conservation and Development: A Case of Co-production of Knowledge in Northeast Thailand. Patcharin Lapanun
16.00-16.30	Discussion
16.30-16.45	Recap of key points
18.30	Welcome Dinner
16 June, 2023
9.00-9.30	A Case of Inlay Lake Water Governance Nan Shining
9.30-10.00	Network of Learning of Organic Rice Farmers in Lamphun Province: Co-production of knowledge Chayan Vaddhanaphuti, CMU
10.00-10.15	Coffee Break
10.15-10.45	Synergies between co-production of knowledge and commoning ? A reflection fed by the experience of the bamboo sector development in Huaphan province, Lao PDR. Phong A. Huynh, Gret
10.45-11.45	Discussion
11.45-12.15	Reflection Surichai Wun'gao, CU and Catherine Baron
12.15-13.30	Lunch
13.30-17.00	Writing Workshop